ABSTRACT

The bibliography cites approximately 2,676 books, journal articles, master's theses, doctoral dissertations, and other unpublished materials pertaining to the urban-rural cross-cultural adjustment problems of American Indians and Mexican Americans. Written between 1902 and 1969, the materials are divided into 2 major sections: (1) those pertaining to American Indians and (2) those pertaining to Mexican Americans. The American Indian section cites 344 books, 330 journal articles, and 423 master's theses and doctoral dissertations. In the Mexican American section, there are citations for 405 books, 624 journal articles, 382 unpublished doctoral dissertations and master's theses, and 168 other unpublished materials. Among the topics covered are: education, health, socioeconomic influences, culture, housing, employment, language, history, politics, civil rights, and migration. (NQ)
